THE WONDERFUL LIZARD OF OZ

'THE WONDERFUL LIZARD OF OZ' is a fun shaker set with many colors. These lizards wear red high heels and a yellow crown and were designed by 'Diane' who signed her name on the side of each one. The tag on this set has a poem about 'Lizzie' who 'clicks her heels together helping sweet dreams to come true'. These dressed up lizards are 3" high and 4 1/2" long with 2&3 holes - made by VanGroup in China in 2002!

DOWN ON THE FARM

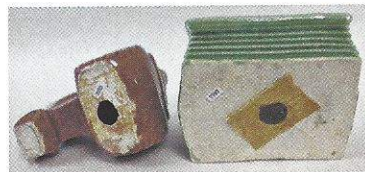

Salt & Pepper sets about the farm family and farming are old and new. Here is a variety of shakers sets about life down on the farm.....

Many farms had a Silo or two by the barn to store grain. The HARVESTORE company gave the Farmer a set of shakers when he bought one of their Silo's. This set is 4 3/4" high with 3&3 holes and red plastic stoppers, made in the USA in the 1960s.

A Farmer on a stool milking his Cow. The cow doesn't like being milked and kicked over the pail and spilled the milk! This set is 2" high with 1&2 holes and was made to have scotch tape over the fill holes instead of having stoppers. When you see that you know it is an old set from the 1930s or 40s and was probably made in the USA.

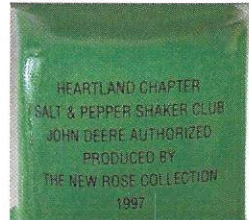

The Farmers and his Wife. This set is 4" high with an 'OMC Japan' sticker and rubber stoppers. Rubber stoppers started in the late 1950s so this set is probably from the 1960s.

A fine Barn and Hay Wagon only 1 1/4" high with 1&1 holes. The miniature size, the gold detail and the holes tell you this set was made by Arcadia Ceramics in California in the 1950's. They also had flat bottoms for scotch tape to cover the fill holes. They originally gave glued to a paper base with a plastic bubble over it and these still have paper stuck over the holes on the base.

A Farmer on his Tractor by his Barn. That Barn is way too small isn't it?! The set is only 2 1/4" high with 2&3 holes and was also made to have scotch tape over the fill holes instead of stoppers - just like the farmer milking his cow!

The Heartland Chapter Salt & Pepper Shaker Club

1st Edition
Certificate of Authenticity

The 1997 Heartland Chapter Salt & Pepper Shaker Club with approval from Deere & Co. are proud to introduce to you their 1st salt & pepper set. This set is 1 of 300 produced and is not official unless accompanied by this certificate. This classic set is unique because of the nodder type shaker.

The John Deere Company gave our Club's Heartland Chapter permission to create these two very unique sets by New Rose Ceramics. In 1997 they made the waving and nodding farmer sitting on a tractor with an ear of corn set - 3 3/4" high with 1&2 holes.

In 1998 the Heartland Chapter had New Rose Ceramics make this John Deere Combine condiment set. The front roller is the 1-piece shaker, the spoon is the long chute along the top and the mustard lid is the very top cover. Overall it has 4 pieces and is 3 1/2" high with 8&8 holes.

The John Deere Company had this waving Farmer sitting on a Lawn Tractor made in China in 1999. The set is 3 1/2" high with 1&3 holes.

In 1998 ENESCO came out with an 'AMERICAN FAVORITES' series which included this John Deere Tractor pulling a Corn Wagon. The set is 2 1/2" high with 1&3 holes, made in China. The wagon hooks onto the tractor just like old metal toys do.

The John Deere Company had this Farmer sitting on a Tractor by his barn made in China in 2000. The set is 3" high with 1&2 holes.
